SIBFORD SCENE

APRIL 1990 No. 135

MOST INTERESTING HISTORIC OCCASION?

While going through old family papers I came across two of the first telegrams received at Sibford Ferris Post Office on the day it became a telegraph office, on the 26th August 1896.

They were sent from Ireland to my great-grand father by two of his sons; each telegram took about one hour to get here and they were sent merely to mark the great occasion!

As the Post Office was at that time at the old Bakehouse and the Lamb family house was next door there would be little difficulty in the final stage of delivery.

NATURE NOTES

Feb 23rd

A glorious day with near record temperatures for February, brought out the bumble bees and a good selection of butterflies.

A neighbours' clipped yew hedge looked as though it had suddenly grown a crop of berries, but they were clusters of lady-birds that had come to the surface to enjoy the sunshine. If the present numbers survive we should have few problems with greenfly this year.

March 3rd

I have fixed the old wooden pump that I found last month, to a post and divided it into four nesting boxes by boring holes at different heights and putting a floor between each. It will be interesting to see whether the birds take to life in flats, or whether they won't nest so close to each other.

March 5th

I did not lack company while I was ploughing today. About 30 common gulls and several thousand black-headed gulls were competing for the worms that were being turned up. I could hear their screams over the noise of the engine. There were also chaffinches and wagtails and a flock of about 50 stock doves, which kept their distance.

March 8th

A bad start to lambing with two dead ewes and another with dead lambs, due, we think, to being chased by dogs. Two kindly walkers found a ewe that had been chased into the stream and helped me rescue her. She was in a bad way, but is improving. As yet the dogs responsible have only been heard and not seen, but I think they are ones that are allowed to wander, as the people who walk dogs our way are pretty careful.

March 12th

A commotion in our garden this morning turned out to be a squirrel looking out of its hole in the walnut tree and fiercely scolding a cat that was looking up at it from the ground. It looked for all the world, like a mother shouting from the bedroom window at her child in the street.

March 19th

Nesting is going on apace. I have heard of a black birds' nest with eggs. In our garden song thrushes are collecting nesting material and robins have been carrying leaves up to the flycatchers' nestbox for the last four days. Now, today they are lining the nest so I shall have to make another box for the flycatchers before they arrive.

March 20th

Lambing is going much better now. The ewe that we rescued from the stream had twin lambs today and seems to be alright.

Dear Barry,

I've been meaning to send this to you for some time but have only just got round to it.

Many thanks for sending us the Sibford Scene. We do like to keep in touch with the 'goings-on' in Sibford.

I've noted the hints about an article for the Scene. We'll write something one day when we've got something to write about !

Best wishes,

Sue Lambert.

SIBFORD FERRIS PARISH COUNCIL

At their meeting held on 6th March, Sibford Ferris Parish Council considered the problem of poor water pressure affecting certain properties in the parish. Thames Water have been contacted and have undertaken to carry out individual tests at each property identified, in order to determine the cause of the problem. If anyone in the parish feel they have cause to complain, perhaps they would let the Clerk, Pat Romans (Tel. 8393) know, and a complete list can then be forwarded to the appropriate authority.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The March W.I. meeting listened with great interest to a talk with slides by Mr. Peter Brown of B.B.O.N.T. on the local small Wildlife Reserve - Lambs Pool. Quite a few had not realised the wealth of interest, so close to home.

The competition for a Bowl of Bulbs was won by Miss V. Harris. This competition might be set a month another year, as many people's best efforts were already over !

Next month - April - we look forward to hearing Felicity Howatson, speaking on Embroidery. Anyone with a hand embroidered Tablecloth should bring it along with them and gain points towards the Year's prize.

The meeting will be at 2 p.m. in the Village Hall, on Tuesday, April 10th.

TALL TREE TALES

The Oxford Tree Club is appealing for contributions to help them compile a booklet on Oxfordshire's trees. In and around your village you may know an interesting tree story (any species). It could be the oldest tree in your village, or trees planted to commemorate an historic event as a war or Queen Victoria's jubilee. Other examples might be trees involved with superstitions, old customs, poetry and art. In fact, any information - however extraordinary - would be invaluable to record the importance of our trees and make a good read. Please don't forget but write down your tree story or any information and send to: Dr. Tom Hall, University Parks Superintendent, South Lodge, South Parks Road, Oxford, OX1 3RF. Please include your name, address and telephone number (if available).

VILLAGE CAR SCHEME GUIDE

The ORCC has recently prepared a revised edition of its guide on 'how to start a village car scheme'. The information pack gives suggestions on how to run a car scheme together with details on insurance, legal requirements and ways of financing it. Copies of this guide are now available from Irene Reveco, Transport Officer, The Hadow Rooms, 101 Banbury Road, Oxford OX2 6NE. Tel: Oxford 512488. Cost £1 per copy incl. p. & p.

Does My Village Need Bus Stops?

You may feel that everyone in your village who uses the bus service(s) knows that it leaves from the 'Red Lion' public house or 'The Memorial' and that there is therefore no need for busstops. However, bear in mind that apart from the 'regulars' there will always be occasional users, new residents and possibly tourists who will not be familiar with the local bus services.

The provision of a busstop pole(s)/flag(s) is an advertisement for the fact that your village has a bus service. Provision, in addition, of a timetable display case can do much to raise awareness of the service(s) available and thereby encourage greater use of them. This in turn may lead to reduced demands upon the County Council for subsidy, thereby making future provision of your local bus services more secure.

What Can the Council Provide?

The County Council can supply and erect busstop poles with flags or just flags to attach to existing street furniture such as a lamp post or telegraph pole. Using existing poles wherever possible helps to keep the cost down. Timetable cases can be supplied for attachment to a bus stop pole or to a wall or bus shelter.

What is Involved?

If an existing busstop has collapsed for whatever reason, the Council will first try to get the principal local operator to take responsibility for it. If this fails the Council will replace it at no cost to the local council.

If one or more new busstops are requested then the council is obliged to seek the involvement of the County Surveyor and Engineer to set up a site meeting between all the interested parties to determine the most appropriate location(s), taking into account road safety and passenger convenience.
