I am reading 'Taste' by StanleyTucci. It is sublime. If you love food, this is the book for you!

SCOUT GROUP LEADERS

The Sibford Scout Group needs more leaders to help support our thriving group of Scouts, Cubs and Beavers. Becoming a leader is immensely rewarding in developing young people to gain awards and badges. You don't have to be able to light fires or camp or climb, just be enthusiastic and want to be part of a team. Nor do you have to commit to help every week. If you are interested in volunteering or would like to find out more, please contact Ian Broome at ian.broome@btinternet.com.

THE WOMENS' CYCLE RACE

The cyclists came through at great speed at the scheduled time, there was much encouragement from spectators, pupils from both the primary school and the Quaker School, the support teams and the Police force keeping everyone safe. The cyclists carried on through Broughton to Banbury before coming back through villages including Sibford culminating in finishing the race back at South Bar in Banbury . A memorable event .

TO ALL GARDENERS AND GARDEN LOVERS

I am sure some of you will remember our Millenium open garden weekend in the summer of 2000.

A few of us walked round the Hook Norton open garden weekend last September.

It was such a lovely weekend that we thought we should do it again in the Sibfords and raise money at the same time for Holy Trinity church, Katharine House and possibly one other local cause.

Of course we cannot do this without opening our gardens. We'd like to hear from you if you are interested in opening your garden the 1st weekend in September 2022.

If you like further information please contact one of us. We look forward to hearing from you.

LETTERS AND NOTICES

A legacy for future generations

This is a follow up to my note in the last edition of the Sibford Scene thanking all of you who contributed to the independent Community Energy survey run by Hook Norton Low Carbon.

This was a "first step" consultation with the community in and around Hook Norton to establish what level of support there was for addressing climate change and larger scale community energy within the area where the benefits of the scheme would flow back into the local community.

HNLC was very keen not to develop any idea without clear support for the general concept from the local community.

An overwhelming majority of the respondents supported the community in taking an active role in tackling climate change, 92.6% (326) and a similar percentage was in favour of some form of community owned community energy in Hook Norton benefitting the village and surrounding villages of Wigginton, Swerford, Great Rollright, Sibfords and Whichford: 88.5% (346).

The excellent HNLC website carries a more detailed summary together with a frequently asked questions (FAQ) section: <https://www.hn-lc.org.uk/> under the heading 'Community Energy'. The site also carries a lot of information about the group's wider network memberships and wide-ranging activities which includes a newly established and well-resourced co-working centre, the Hooky Hub - an alternative to working at home without going into the office!

Hugh Pidgeon [hugh.pidgeon@collectiveintelligence.co.uk]

The Mulberry Trust would like to invite you to:

"The Climate Agenda after COP 26"

Sir Stephen Gomersall, former Ambassador to Japan and Director of a leading environmental engineering company, will share insights gained live from the Glasgow conference, and discuss how and whether the goal of "net zero carbon emissions" by 2050 can be achieved.

It will be an evening for listening, questioning and thinking with wine and nibbles to help the process.

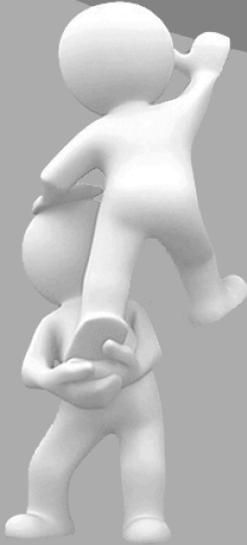

Wednesday 1st December 2021 at 6.30pm

The Village Hall, Sibford Gower, OX15 5RN

Tickets £10. All proceeds to the Mulberry Trust.

Filmnight update

Just to let you know that at the moment we are still not sure if or when we can restart our filmnights.

The filmnight is an initiative of Age UK but is funded by Cherwell District Council. AgeUK it is still waiting to hear whether the Council will fund it in the future.

We may have to look at other solutions how to fund the film license as it would be great to be able to show the films again.

SIBFORD PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB

Sibford Photography Club is an informal group with a shared interest in photography. Activities include instructive presentations and regular photo topics with the resulting images presented and discussed at meetings (face to face or virtual).

Many thanks to member James Hayward for leading a basic studio session on 21st September, which gave attendees an opportunity to photograph objects in a controlled environment, with lighting and background used to enhance the image. We will review the resulting images in a subsequent meeting.

On 26th October, Carol Henson will give an illustrated talk on Photographing Concerts and Festivals. She has many years experience in photographing live music events, so as well as showing us some of her dynamic images, she will tell us about how she makes them, including the kit and settings she uses. We will also review members photos on the topic of "Hidden Treasures".

On 30th November, founder of the Sibford Photography Club, Colin Lamb LRPS, will give a talk about the process of selecting and presenting to assessors at the Royal Photographic Society the ten photographic prints that on 7th September earned him the distinction of Licentiate of the RPS. The Royal Photographic Society is an educational charity promoting both the art and science of photography. The RPS exists to educate the public, promote the highest standards of photography and encourage the public appreciation of photography. The RPS is one of the world's oldest photographic societies with continuous existence since 1853 and has a membership of over 11,000 photographers worldwide. Membership is open to all, irrespective of experience or knowledge. The RPS is situated in the photography hub at Paintworks, Bristol, UK.

Sibford Photography Club also hold outdoor photoshoots, for example walking round nearby villages finding photo opportunities or visiting local nature reserves. In the future, we hope to put on a club exhibition. We would like to welcome more members to the club, so if you are interested in joining, please contact Colin Lamb at colinlamb.cl@gmail.com or phone 01295 780357.

NATURE NOTES

Chris and Sue Beach spotted a large Hare running across the Gade Homes field one afternoon. I assume this was before the building work got started. Eventually gardens may act as a better habitat than agricultural fields for some wildlife. Recent research has shown that bees have to travel shorter distances in towns than they do in rural areas to find nectar and pollen.

Some early morning walks looking for mushrooms, which have been in rather short supply so far this year, have been ideal for seeing spider's webs. On occasions there has been a complete blanket of web across the whole of the Sibford School playing fields as well as impressive webs hanging from dead grass stems.

The Roe Deer that I mentioned last month have now started visiting my vegetable plot to eat the leaves of Chard, Spinach and Beetroot.

Moth trapping in October yields reduced numbers of individuals and species but there is still a fantastic range of moths of different shapes, sizes and colours to be seen. Perhaps one of the most impressive is the Merveille du Jour camouflaged to blend in with lichen covered branches.

The autumn term continues to be successful at Sibford Gower Endowed Primary School with special activities going on to support and enrich our curriculum. Willow Class and Oak Class welcomed visitors in from the Oxford Museum to run workshops on Stone Age to Iron Age and Ancient Greece, respectively. This really brought aspects of their topic themes to life. The children in Willow Class learned techniques to make Stone Age flint cutting tools and made sketches of other early tools too.

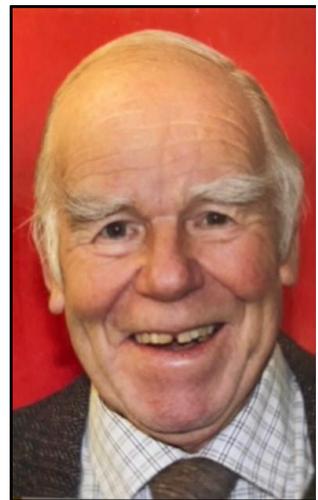

We are saying goodbye to two valued members of our school community. Miss Meadows has worked in our school office for nearly twelve years.

Sadie is moving into a role in the care sector, supporting the re-enablement of people as they leave hospital after long-term stays. We will miss her and wish her well in this new and very worthwhile venture.

Our longest serving school governor has also decided that it is time to step down from a formal role in the life of our school. Mr Fred Inns, who attended our school as a boy, has served as a governor here for an incredible 42 years. During this time, as well as carrying out the formal requirements of this voluntary role, he has done much to enrich the lives and education of the children here, over many generations. Fred has welcomed classes into the air raid shelter in his garden so they can get a real taste of what it was like to experience an air raid during World War 2. He has also made numerous visits to school to talk with the children and answer their questions about all sorts of things connected with the history of the school and the local area, including his own boyhood experiences here. His willingness to share his detailed knowledge of many hidden aspects of the school site has also been invaluable to a succession of headteachers! The generosity Fred has shown in his commitment to the school, the staff and the children is something we value enormously. The children have loved spending time with him and having the opportunity to learn from someone who knows so much local lore. We are hoping that Fred will continue to come into school to share his memories with us for some years to come.

Thank you, Fred

Cardiac Arrest or a heart attack can happen to anyone

When it happens having someone on hand who knows how to perform CPR (Cardio Pulmonary Resuscitation) and use a defibrillator is critical and can save someone's life.

We have had de-fibrillators in place for some time on both sides of the valley, but many people have told us in the past they would not be confident in using resuscitation techniques and have asked for training to be laid on.

The restrictions of the pandemic made that difficult, but we are delighted to announce the first of 3 planned training courses at 6.00 – 8.00 pm on Monday 15th November in the Village Hall

The sessions are to be run for us by First Responders from the South Central Ambulance Service who have already held enjoyable and popular sessions in Hook Norton, Adderbury and Chipping Norton.

We are continuing COVID safety provisions and appropriate spacing, and for this first session we will have 20 spaces available.

For any of you who run or take part in any social or sporting events in the villages, we would especially encourage you to join up if you haven't already. Just drop a note to our Parish Clerk Kirsty Buttle and she'll put your name on the list:

Sibford Ferris & Sibford Gower Parish Councils

The Family of Fred Inns and the Town Estate Charity

The Town Estate Charity of Sibford Gower and Burdrop was founded in the reign of the first Queen Elizabeth by two old ladies who left the Sibford Heath Farm to the community to provide a school master, poor relief and for other village purposes; it is one of the oldest charities in England and has survived for four hundred years through Civil War, Commonwealth, several different monarchies, the Great Plague, and two World Wars, carefully administered by a board of local feoffees or trustees; the old village names of Gilkes, Soden, Inns and Hopkins recur throughout its history. In 1668 there was a great dispute at the time of the restoration of Charles II; in 1772 we were one of the beneficiaries of the redistribution of land under the Enclosures Act. In 1891 there was a dispute about the status of the new elementary school, as to whether this was to be a Church of England School or a non-denominational one; the Non-Conformists won, which is why the primary school to this day is simply described as 'Endowed'. Our set of Minute Books is complete from 1836 to the present day, and there are many documents stored in the Oxfordshire History Centre in Cowley, Oxford.

Prominent in the history of the last century has been the name of Inns. The first Frederick Inns recorded in our minute books was a Trustee from 1899-1909, his son served from 1919-1939, his grandson from 1944-1979, and his great-grandson from 1979-2020.

With the departure of our own Fred Inns 122 years of service to our charity has now come to an end. During that time, as the minutes record, the Inns family has protected the records (on one occasion almost burned by the village schoolmaster's wife), and given wise advice on the running of the Farm and the distribution of our funds. For 42 years Fred was first a Trustee and then Chairman of the Trust; he was the Trust's representative on the school governors, the repository of all our history and the great expert on the mysterious Ram that provides a perpetual water supply to the Farm. We shall miss his wise advice and his deep knowledge of the roots of our history in the local inhabitants of the village.

Fred, thank you for all that you and your family have done for the villages, and we trust we can look forward to still being able to call on you for advice to help us in the future.

OSWYN MURRAY, Trustee

HORTI SOCIETY

Our October speaker, Martin Gascoigne-Pees was going to talk to us about our local butterflies and give us all sorts of tips as to how we might attract more of them into our gardens. Sadly though, Martin was unwell on the day and we were not able to find another speaker at such short notice. Many apologies to you all and in particular to anyone who missed our emails and who arrived to find the village hall in darkness.

We do however look forward to welcoming you from 7pm on Wednesday 10th November when Timothy Walker (former head gardener of the Oxford Botanic Garden) will be entertaining us with his enigmatically entitled talk, "From Diaz to Diamonds". He will focus on one of the most botanically diverse areas of our planet - South Africa. Timothy has a wealth of knowledge and his talks are always entertaining and fun.

This will also be our last meeting before Christmas, and to help get us in the mood for the festive season, we will be treated to mince pies and Val's fab mulled wine as well as the usual teas and coffees.

Those of you who enjoy photography and handicrafts have the winter months to enjoy preparing your entries for the Spring Show to be held on 21st May 2022. The schedule for the Show was in the October edition of the Scene.

In Your Garden - November

I love the changes in the seasons, and now the colour is altering in the trees and shrubs, and the huge numbers of berries this year make me smile, and the birds happy. When the leaves have finally fallen, I can view the sunset through the bare branches, and watch the squirrels chasing each other from tree to tree. But there are still a few jobs that need doing:-

1. Cut down the perennials when the flowers have finished. You can split them up and replant, or give some away. A good covering of mulch will protect them from frosts. But do not cut back penstemons until the spring. Agapanthus need a good protection of mulch as well.
2. Cut back and lift dahlias when the frost has blackened them. Leave them to dry, and brush off as much soil as you can, then store them away in dry sand, or compost in a totally frost-proof shed.

In Your Garden - November

Cont'd

3. OR... you can leave them in the ground, (put a marker to remind you where they are) and protect them with a black sack, covered with a good 4 inches of mulch. It worked for me last year. Fingers crossed...
4. Pot up some Hippeastrums (amaryllis). They make a lovely present to give your gardening friends. If you have planted hyacinths and paper whites to bloom for Christmas, they should be moved into the light when they are about an inch showing. And give them a little drinkie.
5. Bring in your succulents - aeoniums, echeverias etc., and keep them fairly dry in the winter. When you bring plants in that have spent the summer in the garden, always check the pots for slugs lurking underneath.
6. Hellebores will be glad to have some of their old and heavy leaves removed, to make room for the new flower buds to reach the light. You may find lots of little seedlings under the leaves, and they are worth potting up and moving to another shady part of the garden. But they do take 3 years to bloom.
7. If you are quick you still have time to sow some overwintering broad beans, and salad crops, and don't leave it any later to finish winter planting bedding and pots of wallflowers, bellis perennis, primulas, violas and forget me knots. November is always the best time to plant tulips. Plant them deeply.
8. Long growths on climbing roses need tying in - always as horizontally as possible. Tall shrubs - e.g. buddleia, lavatera, could be pruned back half way, then a brutal chop in spring. This can stop them suffering from wind rock.
9. Clear the leaves from the pond or cover it with netting. Keep raking them up from the lawn, and put them in the compost bin or in black sacks to rot down. They make marvellous compost.
10. Did you clean your glass house? Just asking....But a general tidy up is a good idea. Put stakes and bamboos away, and bring your geraniums in to a warm sunny windowsill. Have you put the comfy garden chairs away? Right. That is enough. I will stop being bossy, but have you ever tried how good and warming a very small glass of ginger wine is when you come inside with frozen fingers, and a drippy nose - a real November treat.

SIBFORD HISTORICAL SOCIETY

On September 16th, Martin Sirot-Smith transported us back to Tudor Times. Martin, Managing Director at Sulgrave Manor, has educated over 11,000 schoolchildren with his Living History approach, immersing visitors in the life of the ancestors of George Washington.

Martin appeared in his full regalia of green woollen doublet and hose (well padded as chairs were so uncomfortable in those days) and his cloak and hat, feathers only allowed from the owner's estate, his status immediately recognisable - a wealthy landowner of considerable power but not nobility or royalty.

We learned about the awful diet of the Elizabethans; peasants had only pottage and peas with exception of Harvest and Christmas time, whilst the landed gentry ate far too much meat so were quite unhealthy too. There was no milk for babies and children; beer and wine were drunk in the main. Nine out of ten people who went to the dentist died, hence Elizabeth I never visited one.

As always, Martin was a wealth of information, delivered in his quirky and amusing style.

On 18th November, our very own Professor John Wass is going to talk about 'Plagues, Then and Now: 1665 vs 2019/21.' John proposes to focus on the medical aspects of the plague, and is happy to answer questions. This promises to be immensely popular so come early if you want a good seat!

At Sibford Village Hall: doors open 7.15p.m. The talk begins at 7.30p.m. Please pay £3 p.p. at the door; refreshments included in the price.

The Men from Sibford who died during both World Wars We will remember them ...

1914 -1918 – ninety one men and women from the Sibfords served in WWI and eighty one returned safely. Here are some details from the SHS Archive of the ten men who paid the supreme sacrifice for our future:

GEORGE BODFISH served as a Lance-Corporal with 24th Battalion of The Oxfordshire & Buckinghamshire Light Infantry when he died, on 12th April 1918, from wounds received during the Lys offensive. He was one of eight children, born to George and Mary Bodfish of Sibford Ferris. He worked as a farm labourer and in October 1917 he married Sarah Dumbleton and they lived in Hook Norton. After one week's honeymoon he returned to his battalion. George died of wounds received defending Amiens behind the River Somme and never returned home to his wife and family.

THOMAS HENRY BORSBERRY was serving as a Private in the 5th Battalion, The Oxfordshire & Buckinghamshire Light Infantry when he was killed in action on 29th September 1915. He was aged 29 and is commemorated on the Ypres Menin Gate Memorial, having no known grave. Born in Hook Norton in 1886 he worked as a farm labourer with Sibford farm workers.

HORACE BURDEN was born in Brailes in 1886 to parents George and Emma Burden, but moved to Sibford Gower at a young age. He served on HMS Princess Irene which exploded when being loaded with mines for a mine-laying deployment. On 27th May 1915, Horace Burden was killed when his ship exploded and sank off Sheerness, Kent with the loss of 352 lives.

THOMAS DYER was serving as a Private in 12th Battalion, The Duke of Cambridge's Own Middlesex Regiment when he was killed in action on 29th December 1916 aged 21. Thomas Dyer was born in Sibford Ferris in 1896 to parents John and Annie Dyer. At the time of his enlistment he was living at 6, The Colony and working as a farm labourer. He had also served with the 10th Prince of Wales Own Royal Hussars.

HORACE WILLIAM HAWTIN was serving as a Private in the 11th Battalion, The Queen's Royal West Surrey Regiment when he died of wounds received on 10th October 1918, aged 21. Horace Hawtin was born in Sibford Ferris in 1897 to parents William and Caroline Hawtin, one of 6 children. He had previously served in The Oxfordshire & Buckinghamshire Light Infantry.

Arthur Haynes was born in 1891 in Sibford Ferris to parents Arthur and Jane Haynes and had worked as a farm labourer before the war.

HARRY LINES was serving as a Private with the 2nd Battalion, the South Staffordshire Regiment when he was killed in action on 30th August 1918, aged 23. Harry Lines was born in Sibford Ferris in 1897 to parents Joshua and Mary Lines. In 1910 he married Elsie Green and they lived at Gallows Hill, where he worked as a farm labourer. He had also served in The Prince of Wales's North Staffordshire Regiment.

As a private secretary to Frank Lascelles he was working with a film company in Paris when he signed up to join the Canadian Military. Frank Lascelles ensured that he was remembered in Sibford by having his name added to the War Memorial.

1939-1945

HUGH ODDIE was born on 21 July 1914 in Croydon, the elder son of Sidney and Mary Oddie. His grandfather, Robert Oddie was a former Headmaster of Sibford School (1880-1906) and Hugh and his family frequently visited Sibford. As part of the Royal Airforce Volunteer Reserve, he served as a Pilot Flying Officer with the rank of Major. On 26 June, 1943 he was piloting his Halifax Bomber JB928 on a raid to Gelsenkirchen, western Germany when he was shot down by a German night raider over NW Holland. His heroic self-sacrifice saved the remaining six members of his crew who were able to bail out and all survived. He is buried in Bergen, Holland, but a stained-glass window in his memory can be seen in Holy Trinity Church, Sibford.

HOLY TRINITY CHURCH

We shall keep the Faith

Oh! You who sleep in Flanders Fields,
Sleep sweet—to rise anew!
We caught the torch you threw
And holding high, we keep the Faith
With All who died.

We cherish, too, the poppy red
That grows on fields where valour led;
It seems to signal to the skies
That blood of heroes never dies,
But lends a lustre to the red
Of the flower that blooms above the dead
In Flanders Field.

And now the Torch and Poppy Red
We wear in honour of our dead.
Fear not that ye have died for nought;
We'll teach the lessons that ye wrought
In Flanders Field.

The above poem by Moina Michael, can be thought of as maybe encapsulating beautifully how we might remember those who have lost their lives across the generations. We carry the torch of remembrance and with it our faith, so that we might not forget the ultimate price that many thousands upon thousands of people have paid, so that others might live in peace.

We today individually and together as a community and as a church family have so much to be thankful for and are encouraged also by Jesus to 'keep the Faith'. So that no matter what we might be living through in our lives and as a community, we too might find the strength to continue to carry the torch that illuminates our Christian lives and journeys.

They grow not old, as we that are left grow old: Age shall not weary them, nor years condemn. At the going down of the sun and in the morning we Will remember them.

Here at Grange Farm, Oxfordshire, we believe it's important that our beef gets as much care along the supply chain as we give our prime cattle in the field. So we shortened it.
