MACMILLAN COFFEE MORNING

A huge thank you to everyone who supported the Macmillan coffee morning. For all your donations, cakes, produce etc. And of course all those many who came on the day.

Altogether we raised £770. A fantastic result for this worthwhile cause.

Thank you so much.

POLLY

When I last saw Polly she told me that some of her clients were unable to afford underwear, to their significant discomfort. I asked her, surely they wouldn't want second hand knickers etc. and she replied, second hand knickers are better than none.

So this month I'm asking for donations of underwear in good condition. Please put anything you can spare in the wicker boxes in the church porch. Food, of course, is always welcome too!

Many thanks, Diana Thompson

HORTI SOCIETY

On October 12th Harriet Rycroft, ex-head gardener of Whichford Pottery, came to talk to us on the subject of Planting Pots for Winter Interest and Spring Joy. Veronique has been in negotiation with Harriet since 2019 but with COVID etc it has only just become possible to get her to Sibford. And we were not disappointed! We enjoyed a lively and informative evening with one of the hall tables being put through it's paces as Harriet whacked a large terracotta pot firmly down on it time and again, expelling air from within the pot and making me fear for the safety of pot and table! She gave us some useful tips among which were: to plant now for a spring display, keep a record of what you plant, limit the colour palette, plant a group of pots repeating the same colours for maximum impact and have in mind shapes, colours, height, how the plants work with the pot and timing. Harriet uses Melcourt Sylva Grow general purpose peat free compost which she enhances with slow release fertiliser. These come in either 15litre or 50litre bags. 15l = £2.50 + VAT, 50l = £5.90 + VAT. If I have enough expressions of interest I will order a pallet of compost. (A pallet will probably be at least 40 bags)

On November 9th we close our 2022 programme on a high point with Timothy Walker who will be coming to talk to us on Paradise Lost and Restored: 400 years of garden design in Oxfordshire. As usual, doors open at 7.00 for a 7.30 start, but we will be serving mulled wine and seasonal food beforehand so do come along and join us. Non-members always welcome, £3.00

Diana Thompson

We have had a very positive and fun-filled first half-term here at Sibford Gower Endowed Primary School. Our Year 5 & 6 Oak Class children ventured off to Shropshire for a four night residential at Conover Hall. They had a really wonderful time, challenging themselves to try things they hadn't done before and learning new things about themselves. From kayaking to laser quest, buggy building to high ropes, every day had something new and the children made the most of it. The staff at Conover commented really positively about how respectful and polite all of the children were.

Back at school, Willow class had a focus on Black History month, finding out about all sorts of things about important people and events in the history of the African diaspora. As well as researching and sharing lots of facts, they created some lovely art work too using a range of media including collage, pastel, paint and pen. A small group of our oldest children worked together to create a 'pop-art' jigsaw image of Nelson Mandela, creating pieces separately and then putting them together, to striking effect.

To support and enrich their learning in R.E, Willow Class children walked down to the church in Sibford Gower, where they were met by Revd. Neil Bowler, who also happens to be one of our governors. He talked with them about the Bishop of Oxford and the special chair he sits in and explained all sorts of things about the significance and use of items around the church. The children really enjoyed finding out about some of the detail, including discovering that there is a plug hole at the bottom of the font!

OPEN MORNINGS FOR OUR SEPTEMBER 2023 RECEPTION YEAR

We are holding Open Mornings for parents of children who may be considering applying for a Reception place here next September. These are scheduled to take place on Saturday mornings from 9:30 to 11:00 a.m on Saturday 19th November and Saturday 26th November. If you think we might be the right fit for your child, please do come along to visit the classroom and meet staff.

Nursery provision for children aged 3+

If you have a nursery-aged child and are considering us as a setting, you are very welcome to contact the school to arrange a visit and a chat, or come along to one of the open mornings. Your child can join us at any time from the term after they are three and all 3 and 4 year olds are entitled to 15 funded hours of early education per week.

To find out more about our nursery, please look on our school website at <http://www.sibford-gower.oxon.sch.uk/nursery-provision--admission.html>

NATURE NOTES

As we have been away my own observations are a bit limited this month.

On sunny days in late September any Ivy that had been left to flower was often covered in various insects including very fresh looking Comma and Red Admiral butterflies.

Despite the very dry summer there seems to be an abundance of hedgerow fruits as well as acorns and beech nuts which will provide a good food source for many small mammals and birds.

Sue Sabin has seen a hedgehog several times in her orchard and commented that returning Redwings and Fieldfares are now appearing in the general area. She also heard a Firecrest in the Blue Cedar outside her house.

I have noticed that there are quite a few of the tiny but pretty Owl-midges around this year. They are also known as Moth-flies or by the less complimentary name Drain-flies or Sewage-flies. There are 99 species in the UK but they are very difficult to identify to species level. The adults live for up to 5 days and lay their eggs on decaying matter including the slime around drains and sinks. The larvae then feed on this matter for a couple of weeks before pupating.

SIBFORD PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB

Sibford Photography Club is an informal group with a shared interest in photography. Activities include instructive presentations and regular photo topics with the resulting images presented and discussed at meetings (face to face or virtual).

At our meeting on 25th October, Colin Lamb gave a presentation on "The Art of Plant Photography" covering both record shots and more artistic techniques for making images of plants such as focus stacking, intentional camera movement and multiple exposure. After the presentation, we reviewed members' images on the monthly topic. Following our discussion on the subject at last month's meeting, the topic this month was "Landscape", with members putting into practise what they learned during the discussion and producing some terrific photos.

Our next meeting will be on 29th November at 7:30 pm, when the photo topic for the month's images will be "Autumn".

In addition to the regular meetings, we also arrange outdoor photoshoots at local nature reserves and other places of interest.

We would like to welcome more members to the club, so if you are interested in joining, please contact Colin Lamb at colinlamb.cl@gmail.com or phone 01295 780357.

NOT SO GREAT TASTE

Thought I'd give you my take on cauliflower cheese.....

CAULIFLOWER CHEESES-ISH

Fresh spinach - a handful

1 Cauliflower, ripped into florets

Cheese (grated) - any old cheese you like. I usually have a mixture of cheddar, parmesano, manchego and anything else in the bottom of the cheese drawer.

Milk - 200ml; Butter - 100g; Flour - 100g

Tomatoes - about 3 sliced (depends on the size, I guess)

Breadcrumbs - a handful

White wine - small glass (or large if you feel like it)

Steam the cauliflower for about 5 minutes. Grab a baking dish and chuck the spinach in it and then put the florets on top. Now, make the cheese sauce.

Bung the butter in a pan and melt, take it off the heat and chuck in the flour - stirring constantly (you don't want lumpy sauce) Shove it back on the heat and cook for about 5 minutes. Take it off and slowly add the milk. Add s&p. Once it's smooth, get it on the heat again and cook until it gets thicker, constantly stirring. Now add the wine and keep stirring. You should now have a lovely smooth sauce. Finally chuck in your grated cheese and let it melt into the sauce.

Pour it over the cauliflower and place tomato slices on top. Finally, and top it with breadcrumbs and some more grated cheese. Shove it in the oven at 200 degrees) for about 30 minutes.

Voila!

In Your Garden - November

1. This is the best time to plant bare-root roses, so order some now, and on arrival unpack immediately and soak in a bucket of water.
- 2 It is also a good time to plant new rhubarb crowns, if you divide up the old established crowns.
3. It is a bumper year for apples and pears. Keep checking the stored fruit regularly for signs of rot, and hand some out to your lovely neighbours.
- 4.. When all the apples and pears have been picked, now is a good time to start pruning them.
5. If your garden is beginning to be rather colourless, a bit bleak perhaps? In need of a bit of winter cheer? It is time to go and visit an Arboretum - lovely one over at Bourton on the Hill, and see the rainbow of colours you could be having. Try adding cyclamen hederifolium - they like to sit happily under trees. Some roses have magnificent berries. Try R.Glauca, - R.geranium. or R. Shropshire Lass. If you have room for a small tree, many of the Acers are brilliant.
- 6.Rake up the fallen leaves on the lawn, and avoid walking over it on frosty mornings. Use the leaves to make leaf mould, or to use as mulch over tender plants.
- 7.If you have been removing stakes and canes which have been supporting plants earlier in the year, or propping up beans and tomatoes, it is a good idea to clean them, and stow away in the shed. (Ah Ha, this makes me laugh. I noticed this morning that I had left mine in a muddy heap behind the shed. I really must try and do what I tell everyone else to do.)
8. November is the right time to start planting your tulips, and always plant them really deeply. This will protect them from whatever the weather throws at us this winter..
9. And if you do it early on in the month, you can still plant winter bedding, and do some lovely pots, with wallflowers, primroses and primulas, violas and Bellis Perennis.
10. Might be a good idea to buy in some birdseed, and fatballs, in case they vanish off the shelves too, and it is Bonfire Night! Yippee. But please have a good poke around underneath it, in case there are toads and hedgehogs standing there. And enjoy the mulled Wine.

DID YOU KNOW?

Hill Top Security and Shelter

During the Iron Age and Roman era there was a large hilltop fort on the conical hill above Swalcliffe, known as Madmarston Hill. It has been extensively excavated and remains of human activity, including iron bars used as currency, iron implements and weapons (swords and spears) have been found there. Pots made from local clay and identified from the Iron Age have also been found there.

Was Burdrop once a Hill Fort?

Leslie Baily – an ex-scholar of Sibford School and local Sibford Historian, suggested that the primitive hill-village of Burdrop, standing high above the surrounding countryside may have been an outpost for Madmarston’s full defences affording good visibility providing early warning against any tribal invaders or missionaries visiting pagan Burdrop. A ‘burh’ was described as a hill-top defended place and, with the asset of a stream at its foot, the hill village commanded views of the east-west trackways reaching as far as Broadway Tower on the main Cotswold Ridge. A hilltop settlement comprised huge earthwork circuits of banks and ditches.

The ditches ran around the extensive high banks in a circular fashion and these acted as a maze to confuse attacking enemies. Its circle of dwelling huts, known as roundhouses, provided sleeping accommodation and shelter from the elements. Other outbuildings were used for cooking, food storage and animal shelter. The settlement was totally enclosed by a ring of stakes. The whole stockade would have provided safety for its people from wild animals roaming the forests. The cultivated land lay outside the perimeter of the settlement in the valleys below. Trade and ceremonies may have been shared with Madmarston and might even have reflected the same focus as the ceremonial functions celebrated at the nearby Rollright Stones found on the Jurassic Way West. Maureen Hicks

NEIGHBOURHOOD WATCH

I know some of the scams are clever and many very persuasive, but really !!! - if you receive messages from a man with an eastern european accent on a social networking site, claiming to be an astronaut and professing his love for you, please be a little cautious. His story centres around the claim that he is a Russian astronaut on the International Space Station and that he needs £30,000 for the return flight and landing fees. The victim sensed something was amiss when he continued to request funds. I'll say no more.

(source D/Telegraph).

The Government's £400 to all households to help with energy costs has also been the target of scammers. Your supplier will make all the necessary arrangements. There is no need to engage with anyone. Do not give your personal / bank details to any caller.

Sibford Ferris Parish Council

Councillor co-option

Since the uncontested election in May we have had a few changes to the council membership with the resignation of Rod Pullen and the co-option of Andrew Meyler and Michael Gordon. We are very grateful to Andrew and Michael for putting themselves forward and we are sure they will be great assets to the Parish Council (PC).

Parking

The PC has received some concerns about parking taking place on the brick area next to Sibford Manor. Although we understand why it may appear that this is a parking space, it was put in place to allow a wider area for large vehicles such as buses and lorries to get around the corner so cars parking here stop the area being used for its intended purpose.

We would appreciate it if parishioners could ask their visitors and/or contractors not to use this area as a parking space. The PC has asked for permission from the Sibford Manor Residents Company to put a sign up on the building advising that the space is not for parking and will proceed with this if permission is received.

FUN CORNER

A man walks into a newsagent's and asks: 'Do you keep stationery here?' 'No.' replies the assistant, 'sometimes I move about a bit'

"A gentle old lady I knew
Was dozing one day in a pew.
When the vicar yelled, 'Sin!'
She exclaimed, 'Count me in,
As soon as the service is through!"
